

ASG3 write up

When the cache is on, I put a large file into the server, then get the file. The first time is slow. When I get the file for second, third,...etc it becomes faster. When I turn off the cache. The time to take to get a file is the same.

The unit test for this project is very tough for me. I did get operation first, during the process, I need to figure out where to write the log file, where to determine to remove the file from the queue. It takes a long time for me because I didn't finish the log part of assignment 2. Then I do the put part. I also did a lot of testing and write to the log file.
